Retired from Board in 2024: Lisa Peacock, Culpeper Human Services

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the 3rd edition of the Regional Resource Guide for Older Adults, the only resource guide in our region specifically geared to the needs of older adults, families, and caregivers.

The 2nd edition guide printed in 2022, with support from the PATH Foundation and The Northern Piedmont Community Foundation, was distributed to 7500 people, with hundreds more downloaded online.

Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, social isolation among older adults was a major public health issue gaining international recognition as being detrimental to quality of life. Social isolation and loneliness amongst older adults increased significantly through the pandemic. Overcoming barriers to social isolation remains a challenge. As social beings, we need to be engaged with people and communities for our mental and physical health.

The good news is that our region is rich with programs, resources, and support to help combat social isolation and connect people to important services. Whether it's a need for "Rapp at the Door", food, transportation, mental health assistance, caregiver support or where to find a Senior Center, the Resource Guide serves to provide an easy-to-use vehicle for finding the telephone numbers or websites needed. Sometimes it is hard to know what you might be looking for, and that is why each listing has a brief description.

The Guide also contains important information on the warning signs of stroke, Alzheimer's Disease, and other medical conditions as well as checklists for choosing an assisted living or nursing facility.

For ease of use the Guide contains a tear-out page for each of our 5 counties – Culpeper, Fauquier, Madison, Orange, and Rappahannock.

On behalf of the Aging Together Board of Directors and Staff, we hope you find the information contained in this guide to be helpful and we look forward to hearing your feedback!

Sincerely,

Ellen Phipps
Executive Director

Ray Parks
Board of Directors Chair

CAREGIVER RESOURCES

A Caregiver is an individual who helps a person with his or her activities of daily living. Caregivers can be professional staff, family members, or both. Generally, family members do not categorize themselves as “caregivers” - they are simply doing what any devoted family members would do for a loved one. Consequently, they don’t seek out vital help and respite. The reality is that often family members serve as constant caregivers and provide 80% of the care for older adults and people with disabilities and chronic illness in Virginia.

800-552-3402

Up to $599 in reimbursement per family for respite services to assist Virginians with disabilities or chronic conditions and the family members who provide their care. For more detailed information and guidelines, or for an application, see website.

Community Resource Finder

www.communityresourcefinder.org/

Made available by the Alzheimer's Association and AARP. A database of dementia and aging-related resources that makes it easy for individuals and families to find programs and services in a specific location.

RESPITE is temporary relief from duties for caregivers, ranging from several hours to days. It might be provided in-home or in a residential care facility. Respite allows a caregiver to take a break and get away, maybe for a medical appointment, grocery shopping or a weekend outing with friends. Several organizations, like the ones listed, offer limited funding specifically to help caregivers pay for someone to be with their loved one and care for them while they are away.

Taking Care of Yourself

On average family caregivers spend 10 hours per day providing some kind of care for loved ones, and for some it's around-the-clock caregiving. If you are a caregiver you may feel stressed, and that can affect your own health. See the suggestions below to help care for yourself!

- Accept help. Be prepared with a list of ways that others can help you, and let the helper choose what he or she would like to do. For instance, a friend may offer to take the person you care for on a walk a couple of times a week. Or a friend or family member may be able to run an errand, pick up your groceries or cook for you.
- Focus on what you are able to provide. It's normal to feel guilty sometimes, but understand that no one is a "perfect" caregiver. Believe that you are doing the best you can and making the best decisions you can at any given time.
- Set realistic goals. Break large tasks into smaller steps that you can do one at a time. Prioritize, make lists and establish a daily routine. Begin to say no to requests that are draining, such as hosting holiday meals.
- Get connected. Find out about caregiving resources in your community. Many communities have classes specifically about the disease your loved one is facing. Caregiving services such as transportation, meal delivery or housekeeping may be available.
- Join a support group. A support group can provide validation and encouragement, as well as problem-solving strategies for difficult situations. People in support groups understand what you may be going through. A support group can also be a good place to create meaningful friendships.
- Seek social support. Make an effort to stay well-connected with family and friends who can offer nonjudgmental emotional support. Set aside time each week for connecting, even if it's just a walk with a friend.
- Set personal health goals. For example, set goals to establish a good sleep routine, find time to be physically active on most days of the week, eat a healthy diet and drink plenty of water.
- Many caregivers have issues with sleeping. Not getting quality sleep over a long period of time can cause health issues. If you have trouble getting a good night's sleep, talk to your doctor.
- See your doctor. Get recommended vaccinations and screenings. Make sure to tell your doctor that you're a caregiver. Don't hesitate to mention any concerns or symptoms you have.

Six Tips for Long-Distance Caregiving

Anyone who is caring for a friend, relative or parent from far away can be considered a long-distance caregiver. Whether you are helping with finances, arranging for care, or providing emotional support, long-distance caregiving can bring a host of unique challenges.

Keep these tips in mind to help make life more manageable.

1 Learn as much as you can about your loved one's health, treatments and available caregiving resources.

You can understand what is going on, anticipate the course of an illness, prevent crises, and assist in healthcare management.

2 Organize important paperwork.

Keep all vital information in one place and up-to-date, including healthcare documents, wills and financial information. Provide copies to other caregivers.

3 Make sure at least one caregiver has written permission to receive medical and financial information.

To the extent possible, one person should handle conversations with all healthcare providers.

4 Plan your visits.

Find out in advance what the person would like to do. Aim for simple and relaxing activities. And check with the primary caregiver to see if you can help with any priority tasks.

5 Stay connected.

Schedule calls with healthcare providers and facility staff to discuss the person's well-being. Update trusted family members on your loved one's health and needs.

6 Consider caregiver training.

Some local chapters of the American Red Cross or other not-for-profit organizations might offer caregiving courses. Medicare and Medicaid will sometimes cover the cost of this training.

Visit www.nia.nih.gov/long-distance-caregiving to learn more.

HEALTHY NUTRITION

Tips on healthy eating from the NIH

(National Institute on Aging) www.nih.gov

- Enjoy a variety of foods from each food group to help reduce the risk of developing diseases such as high blood pressure, diabetes, and heart disease. Choose foods with little to no added sugar, saturated fats, and sodium.
- To get enough protein throughout the day and maintain muscle, try adding seafood, dairy, or fortified soy products along with beans, peas, and lentils to your meals.
- Add sliced or chopped fruits and vegetables to meals and snacks. Look for pre-cut varieties if slicing and chopping are a challenge for you.
- Try foods fortified with vitamin B12, such as some cereals, or talk to your doctor about taking a B12 supplement.
- Reduce sodium intake by seasoning foods with herbs and citrus such as lemon juice.
- Drink plenty of water throughout the day to help stay hydrated and aid in the digestion of food and absorption of nutrients. Avoid sugary drinks.

Dementia

Dementia is not a specific disease but rather a general term for the impaired ability to remember, think, or make decisions that interferes with doing everyday activities. Alzheimer's disease is the most common type of dementia. Though dementia mostly affects older adults, it is not a part of normal aging. It manifests with the loss of cognitive functioning - thinking, remembering, and reasoning - and behavioral abilities to such an extent that it interferes with a person's daily life and activities.

4 Things To Know About Depression & Older Adults

Depression is a common problem among older adults, but it is not a normal part of aging. It can affect the way you feel, act, and think.

Depression can be treated.

It's important to seek help early on.

Signs and symptoms of depression vary.

For some older adults with depression, sadness may not be their main symptom.

Friends and family can help offer support.

They can help watch for symptoms and encourage treatment.

Living a healthy lifestyle can help reduce feelings of depression.

This may include eating a balanced diet and being physically active.

The Health Insurance Marketplace® is a federal government service (through the Affordable Care Act) that provides health plan shopping and enrollment services for health insurance through websites, call centers, and in-person help. Allows one to shop for plans and compare side-by-side. Apply online, by paper, or call the number above for help.

Insurance Counseling

Encompass Community Supports (formerly RRCS): VICAP (Virginia Insurance Counseling and Assistance Program)

540-825-3100 (ask for VICAP Counselor in your county)

Part of a national network of programs that offer FREE, unbiased, confidential counseling and assistance for people with Medicare or who are about to become Medicare eligible. ECS has trained counselors who can meet with you one-on-one to provide you with information, so you are better able to make an informed decision about your healthcare needs.

Long Term Care Insurance

See Insurance Counseling above.

Long Term Care Services include medical and non-medical care for people with a chronic illness or disability. Long-term care helps meet health or personal needs. Most long-term care services assists people with Activities of Daily Living, such as dressing, bathing, and using the bathroom. Long-term care can be provided at home, in the community, or in a facility. For purposes of Medicaid eligibility and payment, long-term care services are those provided to an individual who requires a level of care equivalent to that received in a nursing facility.

To read more about long term care services and to better understand long term care insurance, go to the ACL's website: <https://acl.gov/ltc/costs-and-who-pays/what-is-long-term-care-insurance>

Medicare

Medicare is the federal health insurance program for people 65 and older, as well as people with disabilities.

Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance)

Helps pay for in-patient hospital care, psychiatric hospital care, medically necessary short-term skilled nursing facility care following a hospital stay, home health care and hospice care.

Medicare Part B (Medical Insurance)

Helps to pay for doctors' services, outpatient hospital services, and various medical services and supplies.

Voluntary program with a monthly premium - assistance may be available for individuals with low income.

Medicare Part C (Medicare Advantage Plan/MAP)

Type of Medicare health plan offered by a private insurance company that contracts with Medicare to provide all Part A and Part B benefits. A MAP manages the healthcare of members. The company helps pay for medical care by doctors and hospitals that the member needs.

Medicare Advantage Plans include:

- Health Maintenance Organizations (HMO)
- Preferred Provider Organization Plans (PPO)
- Private Fee-for-Service Plans (PFFS)
- Medicare Medical Savings Account Plans (MSA)
- Medicare Specialty Plans

With Medicare Advantage Plans most Medicare services are covered and some not paid for under original Medicare. Most plans offer prescription drug coverage. In addition to a monthly premium one may be responsible for out-of-pocket costs such as annual deductibles, co-pays and co-insurance for office visits, hospital stays and outpatient services such as physical therapy. One may need a referral from a primary care physician. Doctors outside the provider network may be partially covered but it would cost more to use them.

Medicare Part D (prescription Drug Coverage)

Adds prescription drug coverage to original Medicare and other Medicare plans. Offered by insurance companies and other private companies that are approved by Medicare.

Above is just a sampling - you can search for many more online. It's good to review and compare. Also check with major retail chains that have pharmacies and may offer their own discount drug programs.

Prescription Drug Cards

Although they all vary in policy and offerings, prescription drug programs are generally free cards which can often be downloaded directly from the program's website. (Some of the major programs are listed here). When you go to get a prescription at a pharmacy you present the drug card in order to receive a discount, in the same way you would use a coupon. Sometimes that discount is a significant drop in price from the regular cost of a drug. Prescription discount cards are designed to provide lower drug costs to patients paying for their medications in cash or credit card, whether it's toward the full cost of a prescription or sometimes a copay. There is no cost to use these cards, and they are available to you whether you have health insurance or not. Prescription discount organizations are able to offer these discounts by marketing and negotiating costs with drug companies and sometimes by charging small fees to the pharmacies. Ask at your local pharmacy what drug cards they accept, or check the discount card website for participating pharmacies. Most of the chain pharmacies take multiple program cards. And companies like Walgreens have their own discount program. Some drug programs also offer discounts on services and doctor appointments.

All programs vary in policies and offerings, so check their individual websites or call if they have phone numbers.

Name of Nursing Home: _____

Address: _____

Phone number: _____

Date of visit: _____

BASIC INFORMATION	Y	N
Is the nursing home Medicare certified?
Is the nursing home Medicaid certified? Note: "Certified" means the nursing home passed an inspection conducted by a state government agency. Medicare only covers care from nursing homes that are certified.
Are the nursing home and current Administrator licensed in my state?
Does the nursing home have a bed available?
Does the nursing home offer specialized services, like a special care unit for a resident with dementia or ventilator care?
Is the nursing home located close enough for friends and family to visit?
Are there resident policies I must follow? Will I get a written copy of these policies?
Are there extra charges for other services, like beauty shop services?
Will the nursing home tell me in writing about their services, charges, and fees before I move into the home? Note: Medicare- and/or Medicaid- certified nursing homes must tell you this information in writing. Get a copy of the fee schedule to find out which services are available, which are included in your monthly fee, and which services cost extra. Then, compare nursing home costs.
Is the nursing home Medicare certified?
SAFETY & CARE	Y	N

Do staff refer to residents by name?
Does the nursing home offer a training and continuing education program for all staff?
Is there licensed nursing staff 24 hours a day, including a Registered Nurse (RN) present at least 8 hours per day, 7 days a week?
Do Certified Nurse Aides (CNAs) help plan the care of residents?
How many nurses, including CNAs, will be available to help me during the day, at night, and on weekends? Note: The nursing home is required to post this information.
Is there a person on staff assigned to meet my social service needs, and can I meet with him or her?
Will staff call my doctor for me if I have a medical need?
Has there been a turnover in administrative staff, like the administrator or director of nursing, in the past year?
Is my primary language spoken by staff? If not, is an interpreter available or another system in place to help me communicate my needs?
RESIDENTS' ROOMS	Y	N
Can residents have personal belongings and furniture in their rooms?
Does each resident have storage space (closet and drawers) in their room?
Does each resident have a window in their bedroom?
Do residents have access to internet, a computer, a personal phone, and television?
Do residents have a choice of roommates?
Are there policies and procedures to protect residents' possessions, including lockable cabinets and closets?
ACTIVITIES	Y	N
Can residents, including those who are unable to leave their rooms, choose to take part in a variety of activities?
Do residents help plan or choose the activities that are available?
Does the nursing home have outdoor areas for resident use?
Is staff available to help residents go outside?
Does the nursing home have an active volunteer program?
Do I get to choose what time to get up, go to sleep, or bathe?
Can I have visitors at any time – even early or late hours?
Would I be able to leave the facility for a few hours or days if I choose to do so? Are there procedures for leaving?
Does the nursing home offer the religious or cultural support I need? If not, what type of arrangements will they provide to meet my needs?

CARING FOR RESIDENTS WITH DEMENTIA	Y	N
Does the nursing home have specific policies and procedures related to the care of residents with dementia?
If so, does the policy include the use of non- medication based approaches to care as a first attempt to respond to behavioral symptoms (which are often a means of communication) for residents living with dementia?
What percentage of residents who have a diagnosis of dementia are currently being prescribed an antipsychotic medication?
What's the nursing home's current rate of antipsychotic medication use?
Does the nursing home participate in any efforts related to reducing antipsychotic medication use in nursing homes (like the National Partnership to Improve Dementia Care)?

GO TO A RESIDENT OR FAMILY GROUP MEETING

While you're visiting the nursing home, we recommend that you ask if you can attend a resident or family group meeting. These groups are usually organized and managed by the residents or the residents' families to address concerns and improve the quality of care and life for the resident.

If you're able to go to a meeting, ask a group member these questions:

- What improvements were made to the quality of life for residents in the last year?
- What are the plans for future improvements?
- How has the nursing home responded to recommendations for improvement?
- Who does the group report to?
- How does membership in the group work?
- Who sets the agendas for meetings?
- How are decisions made (for example, by voting, consensus, or one person makes them)?

VISIT AGAIN

It's a good idea to visit the nursing home a second time. It's best to visit a nursing home on a different day of the week and at a different time than your initial visit. Staffing can be different at different times of the day and on weekends.

Tax help is provided in safe environments using a variety of methods based on a number of factors, including where you are located, COVID-19 spread, and volunteer availability.

Finding an Elder Law Attorney

Your first question should be: How do I find an elder law attorney? Before making the effort, step back a moment and try to determine whether you actually have a legal problem in which an attorney needs to be involved. If you're not sure, ask your clergy, your financial advisor, a social worker, or a trusted friend to help decide whether this is a legal issue rather than a medical or a social services issue. Legal expertise is expensive and it serves you well to know that you actually need legal assistance before seeking an attorney. There are many places to find an attorney in your city or state who specializes in working with problems facing people as they age. Check with local agencies to obtain good local referrals. Some groups to contact include:

- Alzheimer's Association
- AARP (American Association of Retired Persons)
- Area Agency on Aging
- Hospital or nursing home social services
- National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (NAELA)
- Social Security Administration
- State or local bar association
- Support groups for specific diseases

If you know any attorneys, ask them for a referral to an elder law attorney. An attorney is in a good position to know who handles such issues and whether the person you've selected is a good attorney. Such persons are often the best and safest referrals.

Source: www.naela.org

Key questions to ask when interviewing a lawyer:

1. How long have you been practicing elder law?
2. Are you a certified elder attorney?
3. What percentage of your law practice is elder law?
4. Will you see me and my family through the entire process?
5. Do you do home visits?
6. What will it cost?
7. Will I work with you or someone else in the office?
8. How long does it take you to return phone calls and emails?
9. Are you a member of the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (NAELA)?
10. What recognition have you received as an elder law attorney?
11. What will happen to my file when you stop practicing?

Society should treat older people as equals

One of our society's strengths is our belief in justice. A just society ensures that everyone, regardless of age, can participate and contribute in meaningful ways. Too often, we limit opportunities for older people and minimize their contributions. This is unjust to older people and a loss to our communities. To live up to our ideals, we must confront the injustice of ageism.

Ageism harms us all

Ageism is discrimination or unjust treatment of older people based on stereotypes.

Starting at an early age, ageism shapes the way we think about ourselves and others as we grow older.

Underlying ageism is implicit bias – the unconscious attitudes and beliefs that lead to snap judgments about older people.

Ageism is bad for our health, making us sicker and costing our nation billions in avoidable health care costs.

Ageism stifles the economy by limiting the participation of older workers, despite their years of experience.

This is what ageism sounds like:

I'm having a senior moment.

These wrinkles and grey hair have got to go.

I'm too old to try that.

You look good for your age.

It's time to put her/him out to pasture.

Those are just aches and pains from old age.

Sweetie, you don't look a day over 29.

The solution: confront ageism by telling a new story

The Reframing Aging Initiative is generating a groundswell for change – from local efforts to national leaders – to tell a more balanced story of aging.

This story explains that good ideas know no age limit, and that experience and wisdom can be tapped to benefit us all.

Our words matter. Changing the way we talk will change attitudes about aging, and ultimately, will advance policies and programs that support us at every age and stage of life.

This initiative is powered by research and proven to change how people think about aging.

Quick Start Guide

Our Words Matter

Here Are Tips on How to Choose Them Well

Instead of these words and cues:	Try:
"Tidal wave," "tsunami," and similarly catastrophic terms for the growing population of older people	Talking affirmatively about changing demographics: "As Americans live longer and healthier lives..."
"Choice," "planning," "control," and other individual determinants of aging outcomes	Emphasizing how to improve social contexts: "Let's find creative solutions to ensure we can all thrive as we age."
"Seniors," "elderly," "aging dependents," and similar "other-ing" terms that stoke stereotypes	Using more neutral ("older people/Americans") and inclusive ("we" and "us") terms
"Struggle," "battle," "fight" and similar conflict oriented words to describe aging experiences	The Building Momentum metaphor: "Aging is a dynamic process that leads to new abilities and knowledge we can share with our communities."
Using the word "ageism" without explanation	Defining ageism: "Ageism is discrimination against older people due to negative and inaccurate stereotypes."
Making generic appeals to the need to "do something" about aging	Using concrete examples like intergenerational community centers to illustrate inventive solutions

RETIREMENT! WHAT TO DO NOW?

Positive aging starts with a positive retirement.

ONCE THE ENTHUSIASM FOR NEW-FOUND RETIREMENT HAS CALMED, OFTEN OLDER ADULTS ARE LOOKING FOR WAYS TO FILL TIME. HERE ARE SOME EASY AND NO/LOW COST IDEAS. FIND MORE AT WWW.AGINGTOGETHER.ORG.

REMAIN ENGAGED

With Social Isolation challenges on the rise, it's so important to stay connected. Some ways might be:

- Start or join a book club, garden club, photography club, or any other club that meets your interests!
- Make a point to meet friends for regular lunch dates or outings.
- Join a faith-based organization for community fellowship.

CONTINUE TO LEARN

Lifelong learning means there is never a time where education should stop!

- Check out classes at the local community colleges. Often they have personal learning classes both in classroom and online.
- Seek out all kinds of instructional programs at your county Parks & Rec.
- Learn a new language.
- Become more tech savvy! Check your local library for possible classes.

CREATE A ROUTINE

Create structure in your day to help your life feel purposeful and interesting.

- Wake up, and have breakfast and dinner around the same time every day.
- Plan regular activities, like grocery shopping, going to the library, or going for a daily walk.

VOLUNTEER!

Volunteering offers support to an organization that needs it, while giving a sense of purpose to the volunteer. Fortunately in our region that are many opportunities to offer help. Look in your local paper, online, or check these organizations:

- The PATH Volunteer Hub: www.letsvolunteer.org - keeps an aggregate listing of volunteer needs from organizations all over the region. Pick an opportunity based on your skills and interests.
- The Regional Transportation Collaborative: www.rtcmc.org/give-a-ride - The region is in need of volunteer drives to help people get to doctors appointments, the grocery store, etc. Be someone's hero!
- Aging Together: www.agingtogether.org/volunteer - Aging Together often needs volunteers to help with special event committees, community fairs, dementia training, and more!

ENJOY HEALTHY ACTIVITIES

Now that you can create your own lifestyle, it's a great time to get in shape or start a new athletic pursuit.

- Get regular exercise - even a short daily walk is good for the heart and overall wellbeing. Having a pet is a great excuse for a daily outing!
- Find a new hobby (Pickleball is one of the fastest growing senior activities in the USA, and offered all over the region.)
- Take a cooking class for ideas on creating your own healthy meals.

Helping Someone Transition to Long Term Care

Transitioning a loved one to long-term care can be difficult, but there are many ways you can help them feel supported and connected:

- Be patient and understanding of changing emotions. Kindness and caring go a long way.
- Involve them in decision making processes so they feel like they are still in control.
- Personalize their new space with their own possessions, and display photos everywhere. Bring a small loved piece of furniture and a favorite blanket or pillow. Plants also help enliven a new space.
- Hang a calendar on the wall to help them keep up with dates and holidays, or upcoming visits.
- You know your loved one best. Share things about them with staff - do they like to sleep in or wake up early? What is their favorite beverage? Television show? What activities do they enjoy?
- Communicate any concerns or questions you may have directly with the staff.
- Keep in regular touch with your loved one. Send notes, call on the phone or visit regularly if you are able.

Regional Senior Centers

ECS (Encompass Community Supports) senior centers, located in all five counties in our region, provide nutritious meals and fellowship for eligible seniors age 60 and over. In addition to a lunch, participants enjoy the opportunity to socialize and meet new friends, experience educational opportunities, participate in wellness programs, and enjoy interesting and fun activities. Door-to-door transportation can be provided in most cases. Suggested donations are collected to help cover the costs of the meals. Senior Centers also conduct fundraising programs throughout the year to generate revenue for a wide variety of socialization and recreational activities, including trips.

Don't just make donations — make a legacy.

Setting up a charitable fund or making a planned gift can be much easier than you think — and it can cost less, too.

For over 24 years, donors of all stripes have trusted
Northern Piedmont Community Foundation to help them maximize their impact on our region. No matter how much or how little philanthropic experience you have,
NPCF can help you create a legacy gift that supports the wellbeing of your community for years to come.

FRAUD & SCAMS

There are thousands of scams and fraud hits daily, especially targeting older adults. And the initiators are becoming so savvy that sometimes it's hard to know. Below are just a few examples of prevalent scams & fraud that are happening.

Romance Fraud

Scammers create fake profiles on online dating websites to gain the trust of a potential victim, convince them they are interested in them romantically, and then steal from them. Often the scammer pleads the need for emergency funds, or that they may be able to sell valuable possessions such as jewelry for a high profit. When the victim gives in and hands over money or valuables the scammer disappears. In 2022 alone, over a $1 billion in unrecoverable theft was reported stolen through romance fraud targeted at older adults in the US.

Caregiver Fraud

Caregiver fraud can evolve by both paid and family caregivers who extort money, especially from those older adults with cognitive issues or dementia. This can include unauthorized use of credit cards, bank accounts, personal information and email, all for personal gain. Much of this is accomplished online and is considered cybercrime.

Home Repair Scams

Scammers may offer to perform home repairs, such as installing new windows or renovating a bathroom, and then leave without doing any work. Or after a storm, scammers act as tree removal or home repair services. They come knocking on the door, make a verbal contract and ask for payment up front, then disappear without ever returning.

Computer Technical Support Scams

Scammers prey on the lack of knowledge about computers and cybersecurity many older adults face. A pop-up message or blank screen usually appears on a computer or phone, telling you that your device is compromised and needs fixing. They list a phone number and when you call for help, the scammer may either request remote access to your computer and/or that you pay a fee to have it repaired. They can take hundreds of dollars!

Health Care/Medicare/Health Insurance Fraud

In these types of scams, perpetrators may pose as a Medicare representative to get older people to give them their personal information, or they will offer bogus services, then use the personal information they provide to bill Medicare and pocket the money. Or scammers will threaten that the victim's Medicare will be canceled and they need to respond financially. Note: Medicare will never call, and they will never ask for personal information over the phone. Medicare cannot be "canceled".

Amazon Scams

Scammers impersonate Amazon by seeking verification for an order you didn't place. They may ask for email verification. They may claim there is a shipping problem with your order. They ask for a credit card number to fix the problem.

How to Determine a Possible Scam

High urgency of the person communicating with you or you will be pressured to act quickly, Pretending they know a person you know, Weird looking email address, It's too good to be true, Asking for personal information, Threatening something bad will happen, Trying to convince you it's an amazing opportunity.

Words Scammers Use - if you hear these, don't respond.

"Act now!"; "If you don't pay you will be arrested."; "Don't hang up!"; "You better move your money now"; "Go to a Bitcoin ATM"; "Buy gift cards"; "Don't trust anyone."; "Withdraw cash and give it to xyz person"; "Withdraw your money and buy gold bars"; "Only talk to me"; "I can access your computer remotely and fix the problem".

This is just a very small sampling of ways that older adults are targeted with scams and fraud. For more information or to learn how to report scams, see page 82.
Awareness is a big step toward prevention!

Understanding Elder Abuse / Some types of Elder Abuse include:

- Physical abuse: may include slapping, hitting, beating, bruising or causing someone physical pain, injury or suffering. This also could include confining an adult against his/her will, such as locking someone in a room or tying him/her to furniture.
- Emotional abuse: involves creating emotional pain, distress or anguish through the use of threats, intimidation or humiliation. This includes insults, yelling or threats of harm and/or isolation, or non-verbal actions such as throwing objects or glaring to project fear and/or intimidation.
- Neglect: includes failures by individuals to support the physical, emotional and social needs of adults dependent on others for their primary care. Neglect can take the form of withholding food, medications or access to health care professionals.
- Isolation: involves restricting visits from family and friends or preventing contact via telephone or mail correspondence.
- Financial or material exploitation: includes the misuse, mishandling or exploitation of property, possessions or assets of adults. Also includes using another's assets without consent, under false pretense, or through coercion and/or manipulation.
- Abandonment: involves desertion by anyone who assumed caregiving responsibilities for an adult.
- Sexual abuse: includes physical force, threats or coercion to facilitate non-consensual touching, fondling, intercourse or other sexual activities. This is particularly true with vulnerable adults who are unable to give consent or comprehend the nature of these actions.
- Self-neglect: involves seniors or adults with disabilities who fail to meet their own essential physical, psychological or social needs, which threatens their health, safety and well-being. This includes failure to provide adequate food, clothing, shelter and health care for one's own needs.

Home Safety Checklist

When assessing the safety of a senior's home, pinpoint exterior and interior risks with this checklist.

General Exterior Safety Issues:

- ☐ Exterior stairs are in good shape with secure handrails and motion-activated lighting
- ☐ Exterior doors have strong, working locks
- ☐ Sidewalks and walkways between residence and garage are in good condition, with no cracks or bumps that could present a fall hazard
- ☐ All windows have secure, working locks
- ☐ The yard has motion-activated lighting
- ☐ Garage has an electric door opener with automatic lighting, and the door is adjusted for reliable operation
- ☐ Mail and newspaper can be easily accessed
- ☐ Arrangements are in place for maintenance, including lawn care, snow removal, gutter cleaning and window washing
- ☐ Home security system is in working order, with signage displayed to deter break-ins

General Interior Safety Issues:

- ☐ Working smoke detectors are installed on all floors of the residence, including basement and attic, and near the entrance to the bedroom
- ☐ Working carbon monoxide detectors are installed on each floor and within 10 feet of the bedroom entrance
- ☐ Telephones are located in every room, or a cordless phone is available on each level of the residence
- ☐ Interior stairways have sturdy handrails, with treads in good shape and light switches at the top and bottom of the staircase
- ☐ No throw rugs are used in the home
- ☐ Walkways are free of tripping hazards, including clutter and furniture
- ☐ Frequently used rooms and hallways have motion-activated lights or night lights
- ☐ Furnace and air conditioning are inspected with each change in season
- ☐ Thresholds between rooms are level and in good repair
- ☐ Carpeting is free from tears and bumps that might create a fall risk
- ☐ Hot water heater is set at a safe temperature
- ☐ No space heaters are used in the home

A SENIOR LIVING RESOURCE

Home Safety Checklist

Primary Bathroom:

- ☐ Grab bars are installed near tub and toilet
- ☐ Fall-free tub or no-step shower is installed
- ☐ Elevated toilet seat is installed, if needed
- ☐ Most frequently used personal care items are stored within easy reach
- ☐ Emergency alert system is easily accessible, and the resident knows how to activate the system

Master Bedroom:

- ☐ A bedside grab bar is installed next to the senior's bed
- ☐ Telephone, glasses, flashlight and other necessities can be stored on the bedside table within easy reach
- ☐ On/off switch on the bedside lamp can be easily reached from the bed
- ☐ Pathways around the bed are free of clutter, extension cords and furniture

Living Area:

- ☐ Extension cords are safely hidden from foot traffic
- ☐ Throw rugs are removed

- ☐ Senior has a well-lit and comfortable chair or place on the sofa
- ☐ Flashlight is stored near the senior's favorite seating space

Kitchen:

- ☐ Most commonly used items are within easy reach and don't require a stepladder
- ☐ Stove has front-mounted controls, so there's no need to reach over hot cooking surfaces
- ☐ No curtains or towels are near stovetop, toaster or toaster oven
- ☐ Potholders are within easy reach
- ☐ A charged and tested fire extinguisher is easily accessible, and the senior knows how to operate it
- ☐ Working smoke detector is in place in or near the kitchen

If you aren't comfortable completing this assessment on your own, ask your senior's primary care physician for a referral to a physical or occupational therapist who routinely performs home safety evaluations.

GLOSSARY

Created in part with assistance from the “Aging Services Glossary” of Leading Age Virginia (www.leadingagevirginia.org). Used with permission.

Activities of daily living (ADLs)

Includes basic personal activities like bathing, eating, dressing, toileting, and mobility. A person's degree of independence in performing these activities is important in determining the appropriate level of care and services.

Activity Director

An individual who coordinates recreational programming and life enrichment activities, like art, music, and exercise programming to improve engagement, socialization, and well-being of residents in a care facility.

Advanced Healthcare Directive (see also Living Will)

Legal documents that allow a person to convey decisions about end-of-life care should they be unable to communicate these decisions themselves.

Adult Day (or Adult Day Centers, formerly referred to as Adult Day Care):

Provides a variety of structured, supervised programs for adults with disabilities who cannot remain alone at home during the day. These programs are regulated and licensed by the Department of Social Services.

Ageism

Stereotyping and discriminating against individuals, or groups, based on their age; a tendency to view older persons as debilitated, unworthy of attention, or unsuitable for employment;

Aging and Disability Resource Centers (ADRCs)

ADRCs raise visibility about the full range of available options; provide objective information, advice, counseling, and assistance; empower people to make informed decisions about their long-term services and supports, and help people access public and private programs. ADRCs provide unbiased, reliable information and counseling to people with all levels of income (www.acl.gov).

Aging in Place

Remaining in the community - ideally in one's own home - as one grows older.

Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA)

Civil rights law passed in 1990 that prohibits discrimination based on disability.

Area Agency on Aging (AAA)

A public or private non-profit agency, designated by the state to address the needs and concerns of all older persons at the regional and local levels. “Area Agency on Aging” is a generic term - specific names of local AAAs may vary, as in the Encompass Community Supports (ECS) in our region (Culpeper, Fauquier, Madison, Orange, Rappahannock). AAAs coordinate and offer services that help older adults. In our region older adults can get help with options counseling, chronic disease self management education, the emergency medical alert and fall care programs, home delivered meals, elder housing apartments, long-term care ombudsman services, the protective money management program, senior centers, Virginia counseling and assistance program (VICAP), and adult day care.

Assisted Living

Long term care service that provides housing along with personal and health care services to individuals who need assistance with normal daily living activities but are able to maintain a level of independence.

Assistive Technology (AT)

Used by individuals with disabilities to perform functions that might otherwise be difficult or impossible. AT can be any item or piece of equipment used to increase, maintain or improve the functional capabilities of aging individuals in all aspects of life. Some examples of assistive technology are simple reaching equipment, wheel chairs or scooters, hearing aids, computerized aids including text-to-speech and word prediction, close captioning, screen readers and mobile devices. Assistive aids also includes non-motorized and non-tech tools, like walkers, canes, grab bars, pencil grips, or ramps.

Caregiver

A family member or paid helper who regularly looks after a sick, elderly, or disabled person. A caregiver helps a person with their activities of daily living which may include emotional or financial support, as well as hands-on help. Generally, family members do not categorize themselves as “caregivers”, but they are. In fact the largest percentage of caregivers are family members.

Chronic Disease

A condition that lasts for a year or more and requires ongoing medical attention or limits daily activities. Chronic diseases can worsen over time and are usually not curable, but they can be controlled. Examples include Cancer, Heart disease, Diabetes, Arthritis, Stroke, Asthma, Multiple sclerosis, HIV/AIDS, Pain, among others.

Companion Care

A form of home care offering non-medical services including emotional support and socialization, household chores, transportation, and meal preparation to older adults and those with disabilities.

Dementia

Describes a group of diseases (including Alzheimer's Disease) which are characterized by memory loss and other declines in mental functioning.

Direct Care

Any activities by a health professional involving direct interaction, treatment, administration of medications, and/or other therapy or involvement with a resident or patient.

Do Not Resuscitate (DNR)

DNR stands for Do Not Resuscitate and tells health care providers and emergency medical personnel not to do cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) on a person if they stop breathing or if their heart stops beating. The DNR only affects the decision about CPR, not any other treatments such as pain medicine, or nutrition.

Durable Medical Equipment

Equipment and supplies ordered by a health care provider for everyday or extended use. Payment for DME by Medicare may include: oxygen equipment, wheelchairs, crutches or blood testing strips for diabetics, and other items. Medicare defines Durable Medical Equipment as long lasting, used for a medical reason, not usually used by someone not sick or injured, and used in the home. Medicare Part B usually covers durable medical equipment prescribed by your doctor.

Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care

A legal document authorizing an individual to act on one's behalf when incapacitated or is otherwise unable to handle one's affairs.

Elder Abuse

Refers to any knowing, intentional, or negligent act by a caregiver or other person that causes harm or serious risk of harm to a vulnerable adult.

Elderspeak

Elderspeak is a way of speaking to older adults that's similar to baby talk, using simplified language and terms of endearment. Elderspeak can be harmful because it can make older adults feel devalued and sad. It's based on the stereotype that older people have reduced cognitive abilities, but it's not uncommon for older adults to be able to understand just as well as anyone else.

Encore Career

The term "encore careers" generally refers to people over 50 doing work and volunteering that combines continued income/compensation with personal meaning and social impact – to meet society's biggest needs; paid work with a social purpose. (see encore.org).

Family Council

A self-governing group of family members and friends of residents of a nursing home which works to improve the quality of care and quality of life of those residents.

Home Health Care (or In-Home Health Care)

Health care or supportive care provided by a professional in the person's own home, as opposed to care provided in group accommodations like clinics or nursing homes.

Home Care

Home care provides non-medical companion care, and personal care to an individual in their own home. Services may include light housekeeping, daily care assistance, medication reminders, meal preparation, shopping services and some others. There are fees for this service which are usually not covered by insurance.

Hospice Care

Kind of care that focuses on the quality of life for people and their caregivers who are experiencing an advanced, life-limiting illness. Hospice care provides compassionate care for people in the last phases of incurable disease so that they may live as fully and comfortably as possible (from www.cancer.org).

Independent Living

Living arrangement for those individuals who can live on their own with limited to no assistance with ADLs.

Independent Living Community

Communities with housing arrangements designed exclusively for older adults, generally those aged 55 and over who need little or no assistance with activities of daily living. They do not offer medical or nursing staff. They typically offer meal plans, social activities, housekeeping and yard maintenance, as well as transportation options.

Level of Care

Generally, refers to how much assistance a person needs with activities of daily living (ADLs) and health maintenance needs. Levels of care can be divided into independent living, assisted living, nursing home, adult day, and home health and hospice.

Living Will

Directs, in advance, an individual's wishes concerning the use of life-sustaining devices and procedures in the event of an incapacitating illness or injury.

Long Term Care

Provides a range of medical and/or social services designed to help people who have disabilities or chronic care needs. Services may be short-term or long-term, and may be provided in a person's home, in the community, or in residential facilities (e.g., assisted living or nursing home). LTC in Virginia primarily refers to nursing home and assisted living, but also includes adult day.

Long Term Care Ombudsman

An individual designated by a state or a local agency responsible for investigating and resolving complaints made by or for older people in long term care (LTC) facilities. Also responsible for monitoring federal and state policies that relate to LTC facilities, for providing information to the public about the problems of older people in facilities, and for training volunteers to help in the ombudsman program.

Medicaid

Health coverage to those with limited income and resources including eligible adults, children, pregnant women, elderly adults and people with disabilities. Medicaid is administered by states, according to federal requirements. The program is funded jointly by states and the federal government.

Medicare

National health insurance begun in 1966 under the Social Security Administration (SSA) and now administered by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). It primarily provides health insurance for Americans aged 65 and older who have paid into social security, but also for some younger people with disability status as determined by the SSA, and people with end stage renal disease and amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS or Lou Gehrig's disease).

Memory Care

A form of senior living that provides specialized care for people with memory issues such as Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia. Many assisted living facilities and nursing homes have created special memory care units for those living with dementia. There are also stand-alone memory care facilities.

Options Counseling

A person-centered service for older individuals, persons with disabilities, or their caregivers.

Palliative Care

Specialized medical care that focuses on providing patients relief from pain and other symptoms of a serious illness, no matter the diagnosis or stage of disease. May include medical, spiritual, psychological and social care.

Person-Centered Care

Care in which the patients or residents of a care community actively participate in their own medical treatment with the primary goal of improving the individual's health outcomes, not just the population's outcomes. Person centered care encourages caregivers and facilities to "see the person" and not the medical condition.

Senior Villages

A "Senior Village" is a concept in which older residents (age 50 and older) of a community such as a neighborhood, town, or county form a nonprofit group to help one another remain in their own homes as they age. Senior Villages help empower the wish of most older adults to "age in place" or stay in their own homes and remain independent even if some of the activities of caring for the home and getting around become more difficult. So for instance, if someone needs help with driving to the doctor or mowing their lawn, they can access help from their own community, usually from people they already know which extends a sense of safety and security. Senior Village models typically offer social activities and exercise opportunities that those in their 50's and 60's enjoy while they are still mostly able to take care of their own homes.

Senior Villages, also referred to as Village Models, are planned around the concept of “neighbors helping neighbors” where connectedness to the community offers support and social engagement as well as opportunities to volunteer and get needed help. Villages are non-profit membership based communities which sometimes require a membership fee as there is staff that manage, plan and schedule the available community resources. In our region there are currently two senior village models: Lowlinc (Lake of the Woods Living Independently in Our Community) in Orange, VA and Rapp at Home in Rappahannock County.

Skilled Nursing

Type of high level care provided by licensed health professionals such as registered nurses. Additional professionals may include physical therapists, occupational therapists and speech-language therapists. It can be provided for short or long-term depending on the care required. Skilled nursing assures medical, psychological, or social needs are met and provides rehabilitation, nutritional help, and activities. Can be provided at home or in a facility, but must be ordered by a doctor if it is to be covered by Medicare or Medicaid or health insurance.

Social Isolation

Social isolation refers to the state of having little to no social contact or support, and few or no relationships with others.

Support Group

Support groups bring together people who are going through or have gone through similar experiences. For example, this common ground might be cancer, chronic medical conditions, addiction, bereavement or caregiving. Supports groups provide opportunities to share feelings and experiences and offer ideas for help.

TRIAD Programs

AARP, the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) and the National Sheriff's Association (NSA) have a cooperative agreement to address crime prevention needs of older citizens and many counties have their own TRIAD. TRIAD provides services such as smoke detectors, emergency beacons, emergency cell phones, etc. Contact your local TRIAD to obtain info on available services and to find out about fraud prevention programs.
